This is Salvador Dalí, the painter.

He was born more than a 100 years ago in Spain.

With his pictures, Dalí takes us to mysterious dream worlds where clocks melt and cars turn into stone, where we meet strange creatures and monsters, and where human bodies change into furniture!

His style of painting is called Surrealism. Salvador Dalí did not paint reality. He painted his dreams and fantasies.

This book invites you on a surrealistic, fantastic journey. Here you will find pictures by Salvador Dalí to color in and finish yourself.

Set your imagination free!

Paint your dreams!

Salvador Dalí with his wife Gala in their apartment in Paris

A painter at his easel—what does he see in this landscape?

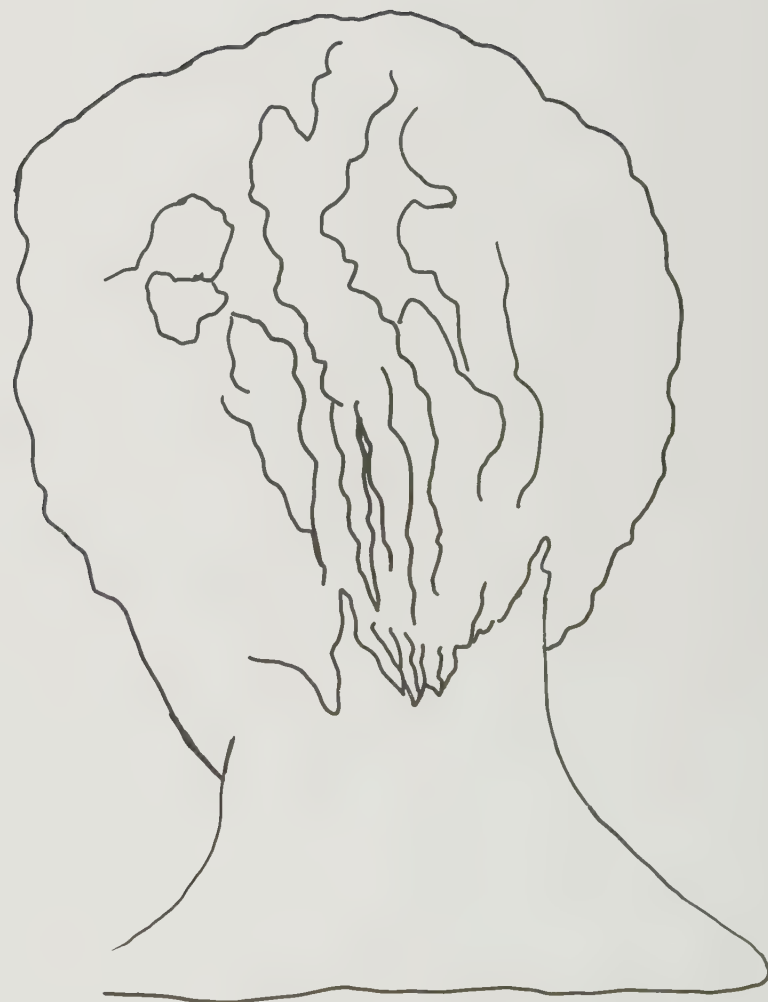

How about drawing a funny picture of yourself?

This is a strange forest! Are these heads or trees?
You can paint this landscape however you want!

Accidents sometimes make the most beautiful pictures.
Can you paint something on this page with your eyes closed?

Splat! Can you make this into a picture?

Sleep—what is he dreaming about?

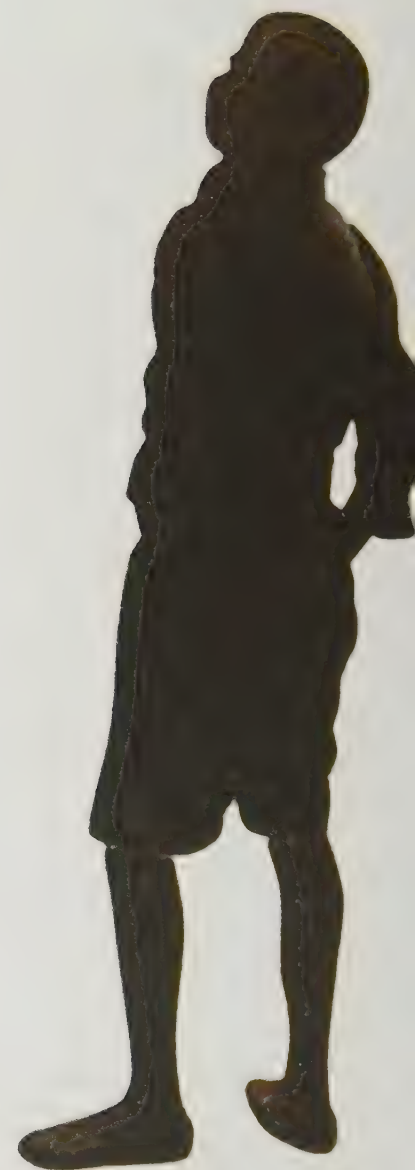

Create your own story ...

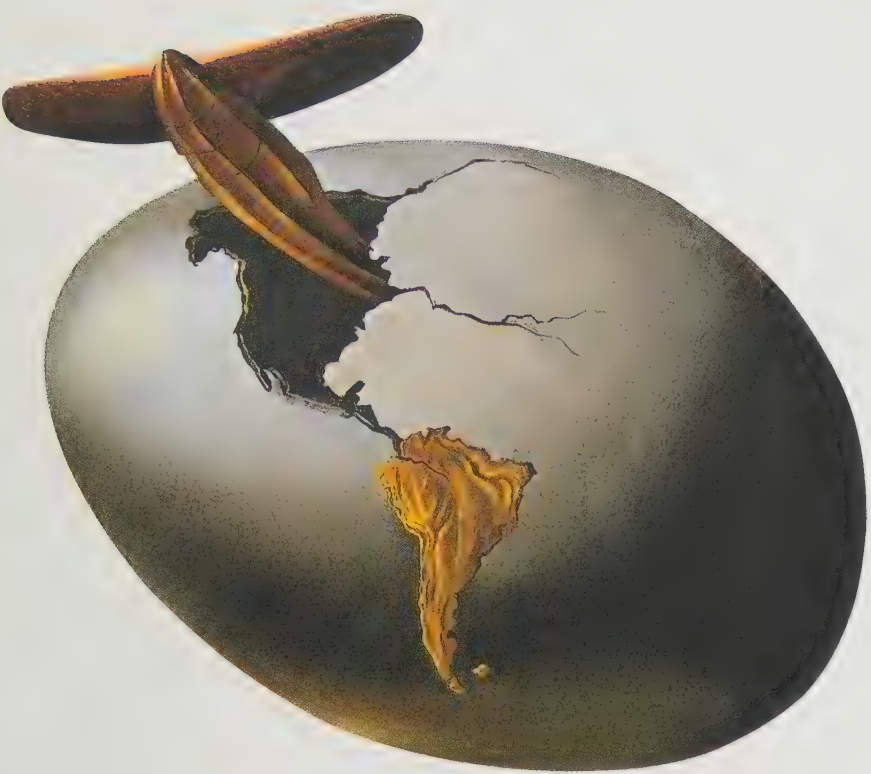

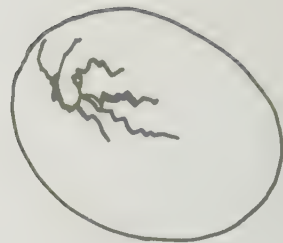

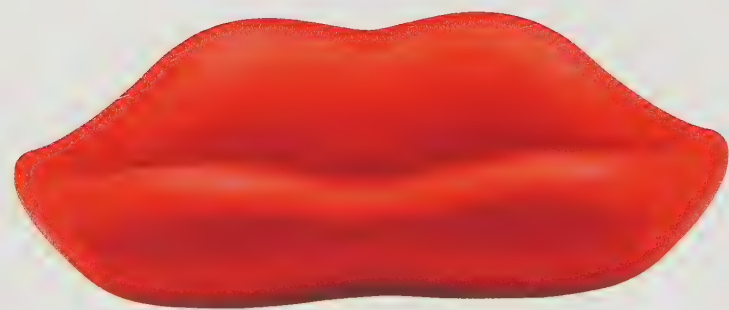

What is hatching out of these eggs?

A leg table and a lip couch! Let's invent some more silly furniture!

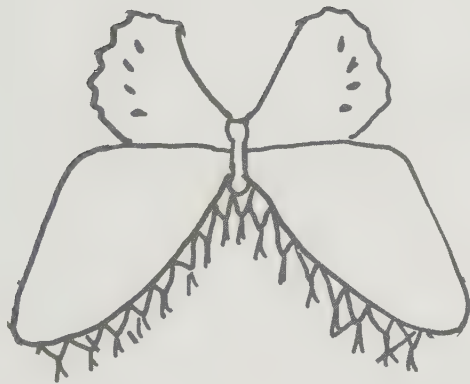

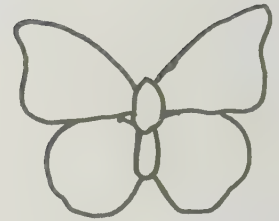

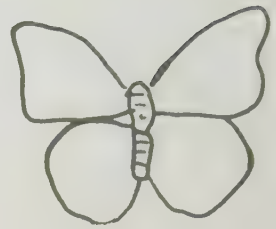

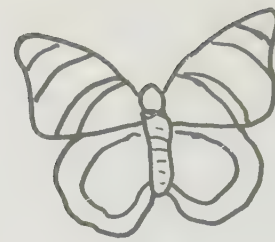

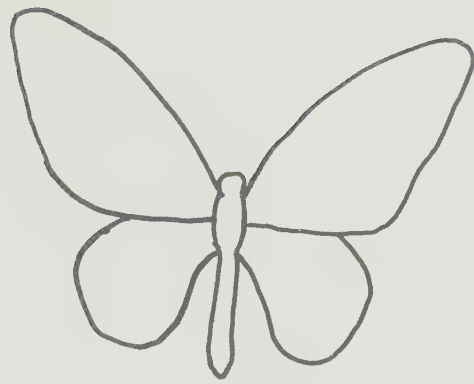

What do you think about a fish-dress? Or how about using a shoe for a hat?

The Lobster Telephone is ringing in your ear!

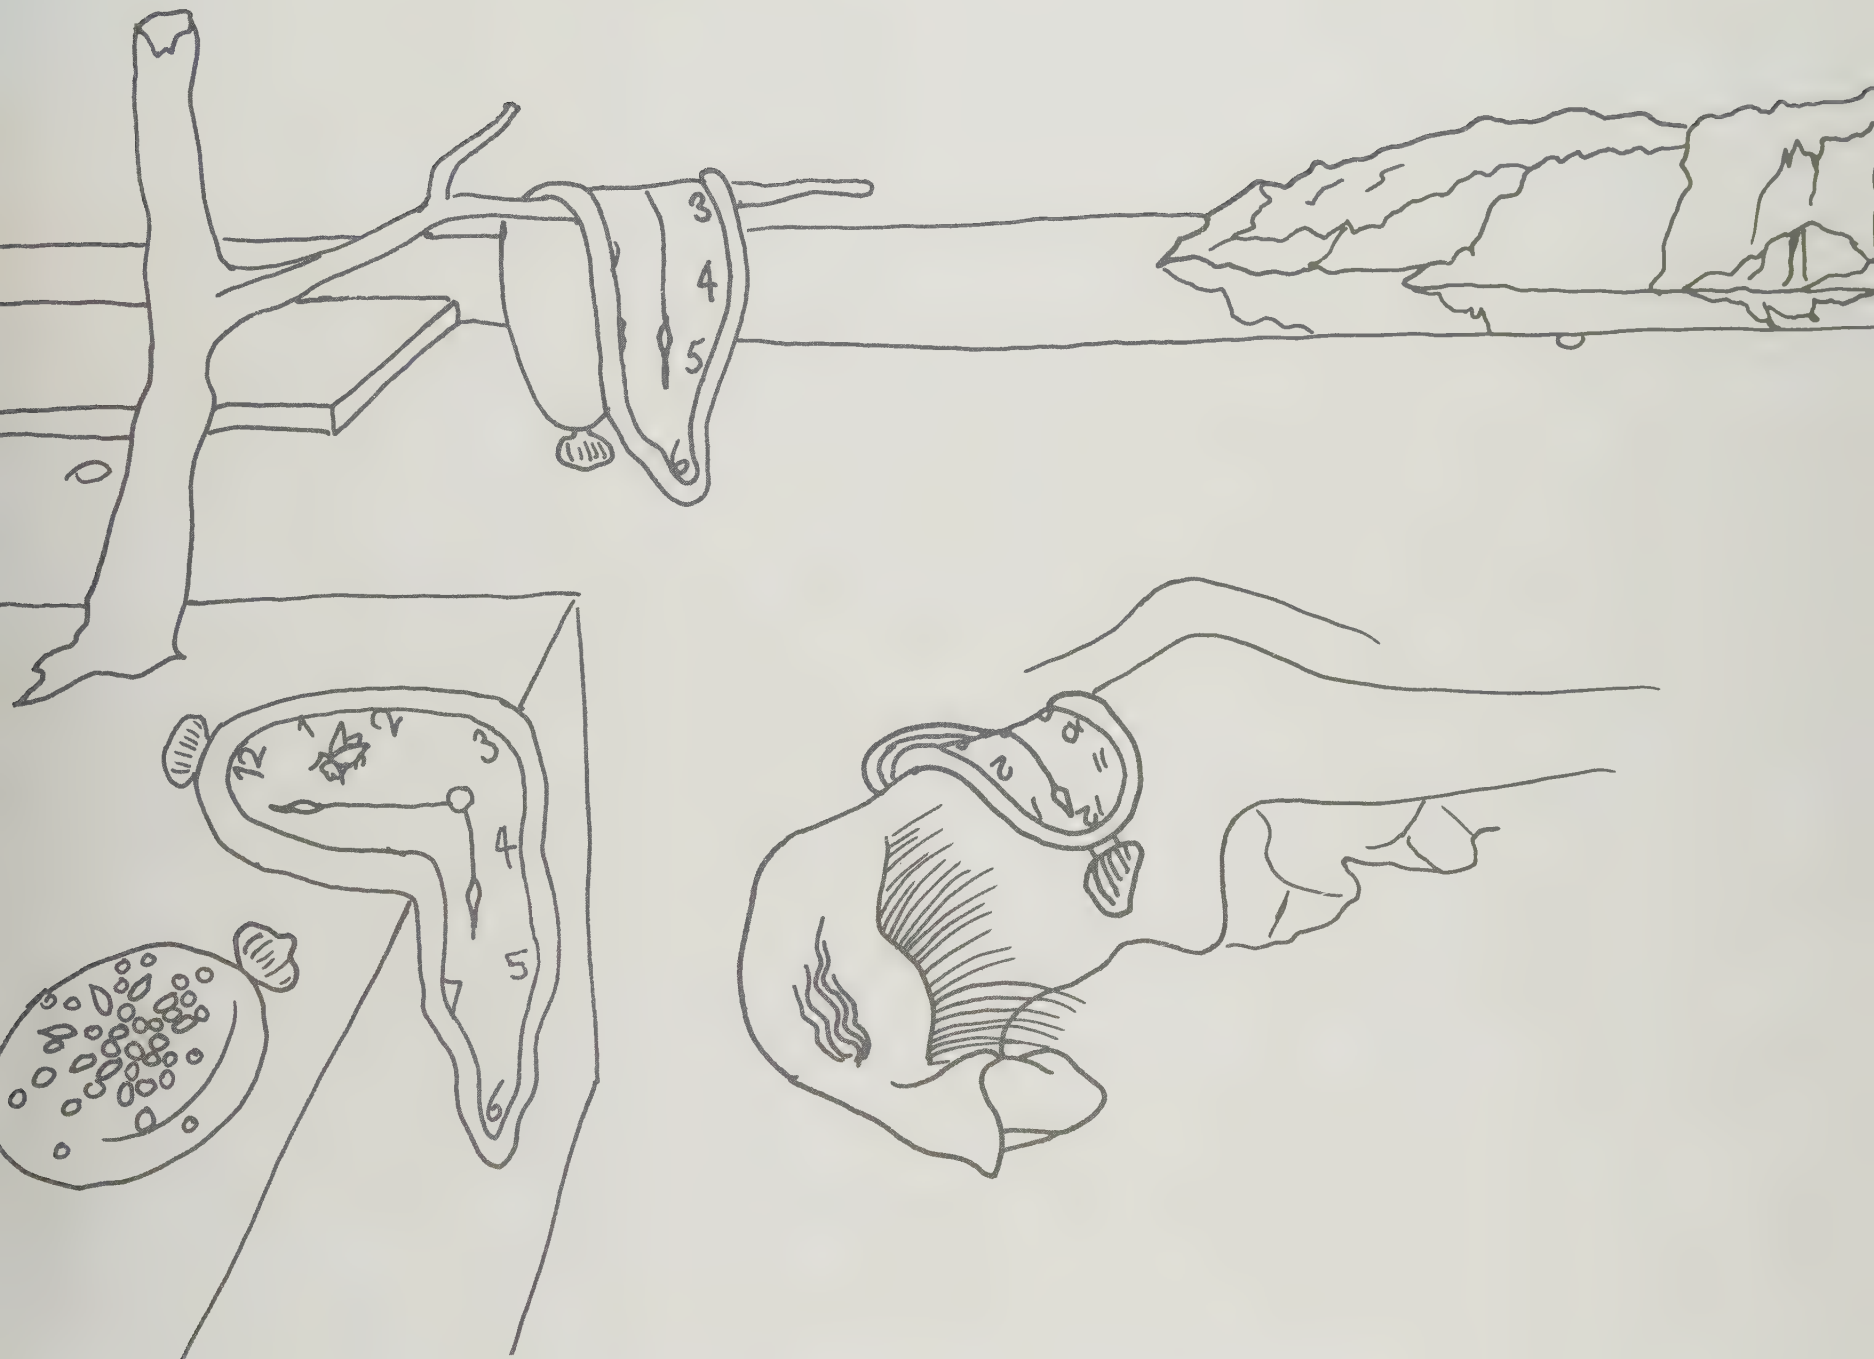

Here's a page for fairies and butterflies.
